Subject Guide	Recommended databases
Accounting & Finance Business & Marketing	Start with Academic Search Complete For heavy-hitting research: ABI- INFORM Collection Business Source Elite contains popular, trade, and scholarly articles For company info: Business Insights: Essentials
Education Professional Education: Special Education Library Science	Education Research Complete is all fulltext. ERIC: the largest educational database; sponsored by the U.S. government. Choose any of the “Selected Databases” on the Education: Professional subject guide. All are appropriate and high-quality. Databases from related disciplines:  CINAHL Complete: The premier database for nursing.  PsycINFO: The premier database for psychology. PsycARTICLES is a fulltext subset of PsycINFO.  Library, Information Science & Technology Abstracts is an appropriate starting place for library & information science topics, including censorship, literacy, open access, and more.
Exercise & Sports Science	Start with SPORTDiscus Also consider Academic Search Complete
Family & Consumer Science	Because this discipline has many subspecialties, Academic Search Complete is a good starting place.  For more in-depth coverage of a specific area, Consider Business Source Elite for business topics  Use any of the databases on the “Education Professional” Subject Guide for FACS Education.
Military Science	Start with Military & Government Collection Academic Search Complete is broader
